Cut a piece of cardstock or DSP to measure $5 \frac{1}{4}"$ x $9 \frac{1}{4}"$ - put a long side along the top of your scoring tool and score at $1 \frac{1}{4}"$, $4 \frac{1}{2}"$, $6"$ and $9"$ - rotate 90 degrees and score at $1 \frac{1}{4}"$

Cut along the score lines as shown below

Using a handheld $\frac{1}{8}"$ circle punch, cut two holes at the top of a large panel - $1 \frac{1}{4}"$ in from each score line and down $\frac{1}{4}"$ from the top - repeat at the bottom $\frac{1}{4}"$ up and $\frac{1}{4}"$ in

Cut a piece of ribbon to measure 18" - on the inner surface post through the top two holes and pull until you have an even amount of ribbon each side

Take one side of the ribbon down and through the bottom hole

Tie and knot and cut off the excess ribbon

Repeat for the other side

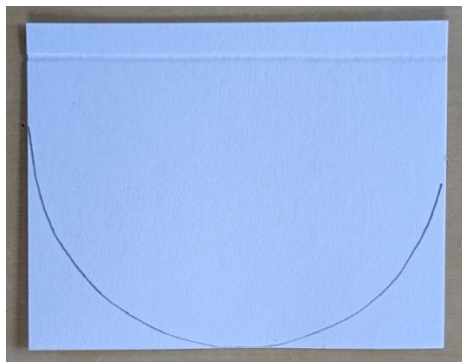

Apply very strong adhesive tape to a large bottom flap and adhere in place

At the top of the box, gently pinch in the top sides to form fold lines

To make the top flap cut a piece of cardstock or DSP to measure $2\frac{7}{8}$ " x $2\frac{1}{4}$ " - put into your scoring tool with a shorter edge along the top and score at $\frac{1}{4}$ " - you can keep the bottom edge with square corners but if you wish to create a curved flap, I find a bowl that will work in my kitchen and draw around it and cut it out!

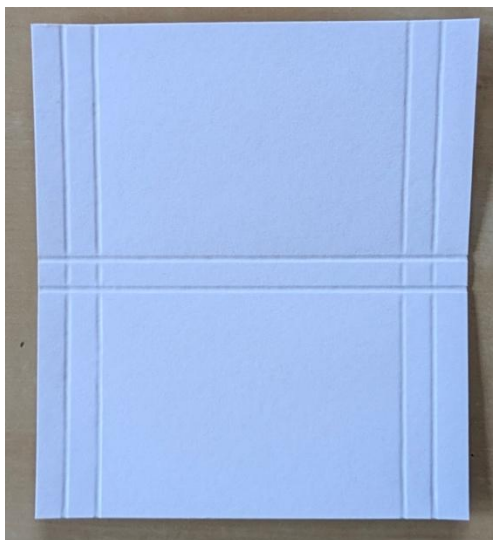

Apply strong adhesive tape to the little flap and adhere to the outside of the backpack

To keep the flap closed, apply a velcro dot

To make the gift card pocket cut a piece of cardstock or DSP to measure $3\frac{1}{2}$ " x 4" - place in your scoring tool with a shorter edge along the top and score at $\frac{1}{4}$ ", $\frac{1}{2}$ ", 3" and $3\frac{1}{4}$ " - rotate 90 degrees and score at $1\frac{7}{8}$ " and $2\frac{1}{8}$ "

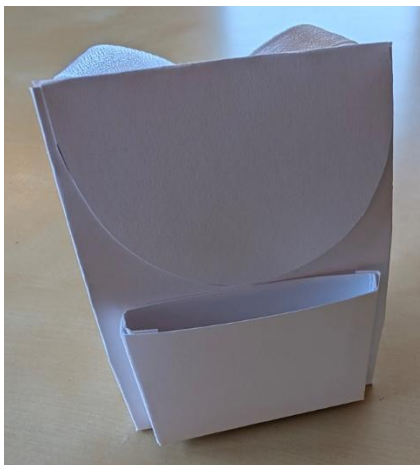

Fold along all score lines and trim away as shown below

Apply strong adhesive tape to the small flaps and assemble the little box

Adhere to the front of the backpack

To add the finishing touch of a loop to the backpack cut a piece of ribbon and form a loop finishing in a knot - use hot glue to adhere in place

And now it is ready for decorating!
